Little Jack Horner was sitting in the corner and was eating his Christmas pie.
Suddenly, he stuck in his thumb + pulled out a plum and said "What a good boy am I."

While Little Red Riding Hood was walking thru the woods, the wolf ran ~~Little Red Horner~~ to her grandmother's house. When she arrived there, he was in her Gm's bed. She entered the house + he began to talk to her. While he was talking she saw that he had large eyes, his ears were large also. She was afraid + wanted to leave. Suddenly the wolf became frightened because some wood cutters were passing, so he left from the bed + fled from the house.

After an interesting conference, the prof noticed the man's book, he called Julio to his desk and said.

- This a copy of the Quijote that you have seems very old, can I see it?

- Of course, sir - answered the young man, and he handed it over.

After examining it with care, the professor said with enthusiasm: Surely this is the first edition of the book! It is worth a lot! where did you get this?

Julio explained the case and almost shouted of happiness at the account that the sale of the book gave enough money to pay for his studies.

And the widow - Did she know that the book had value? who knows? Sr/Homaka Ricardo. Cal Tiene 27 años. Puerto Rico Yeraic textiles

Dona Ana lived in an old ~~house~~ apartment house, in a humble apartment that revealed the poverty of a lady whose husband was dedd for several years. It is not difficult to imagine the happiness of the old women when the ~~boy~~ young man returned the letter with all the money.

She said: Ay, young man, how ~~what~~ good and honorable you are! I want to give you a reward for your kindness. As you see, I am poor and need all this money to live. But you have this lottery ticket. The drawing will take place tomorrow, and perhaps you'll have luck.

Miss, thank you for your offer - responded Julio - but keep your ticket. I see that you can use the first prize money well. I ~~picked up~~ took the letter because it was my duty.

But the widow wanted to give him something, and said: Young man, I have no family. I am alone in the world, and am very old. I want to give you this old edition of the Quijote. ~~It has been~~ We've had it in our family very long, and now I'm going to have a young man demonstrate the ideals of the famous nobleman of the Mancha.

Thank you, Miss - answered the boy; but I don't want a reward.

But Dona Ana insisted, and finally Julio accepted the gift.

Four years later, the ~~boy~~ young man was studying at the Univ. of Madrid. He wanted to arrive to be a lawyer but his family didn't have much money. Because of this, he had to work at night.

It was the first day of his Spanish Literature course. The book they were to discuss was the Quijote. Julio he remembered the gift of the widow, and was happy because he didn't have to buy the book.
